NEWS AND COMMENT

It is quite impossible in the space at our disposal to reproduce the numerous laudatory and regretful resolutions passed by Faculty, Students and Alumni Clubs in recognition of the direful fact that Dr. Drinker will soon retire as Lehigh's chief executive. From individual Alumni letters by the hundreds attest the love and veneration Lehigh hearts hold for our President. In the almost fifty years since his graduation he has been a constant worker for Lehigh, and no college has ever had a more loyal, self sacrificing son. We might write reams to tell of his service and of the great accomplishments for Lehigh with which his life has been filled but nothing will tell the story more truly or half as succinctly as a brief summary showing the wonderful growth of our Alma Mater during his fifteen years as President. Reading these figures one realizes the determination and effort that must have been expended to treble our endowment, wipe out three-quarters of a million debt, and almost double our plant, teaching force and student body in the short space of fifteen years.

Table prepared by the Assistant Treasurer, showing the development of the University during the past fifteen years:

The Alumni Trustees.—The Alumni Association has created a real place for itself in Lehigh affairs and in recognition of this the Board of Trustees have unanimously decided that the Alumni Trustees should have the vote and share in the future the responsibility that rests on the other members of the Board. It is a great step forward and every Lehigh man will welcome it as a sign of a new spirit in the conduct of Lehigh affairs. But we must also recognize that it compels a new attitude on our part. An attitude of serious responsibility. It also becomes necessary to make our Alumni Trustees more nearly representative of the Alumni body, and in order to do this some new method of nominating them must be found. R. C. Watson, '13, Secretary of the Washington Lehigh Club, has suggested that the various local clubs be made official units of the central Alumni body and aid in the nomination of Alumni officers and Alumni Trustees. This is an excellent idea and we submit for discussion the following plan. At the first fall meeting of each club, to be held before November 15, a complete ticket for election the following spring be nominated by the club, and these nominations be sent to the Alumni Secretary immediately after November fifteenth. The Secretary will send to each club a full list of all nominations made by the various clubs. Each club will then vote on all the nominees, and the result of this balloting will be again sent to the Secretary. He in turn will forward these results, not later than March first of each year, to the Nominating Committee, whose nominations will then be governed by the results of this voting. Where two or more men seem to be about equally supported for any office they can nominate all of these favorites, allowing the ballots at the June meeting to determine the final results. Anything of this kind requires a change in the by-laws and should be thoroughly discussed before an amendment is prepared. Therefore we will throw open the columns of the BULLETIN to communications bearing on this subject. In addition we trust its importance will sufficiently appeal to the various clubs so that they will discuss it thoroughly and advise the Secretary of the conclusions they reach.

The Classes and the "Bulletin."—The action of the Class of '90 at their reunion dinner was tremendously gratifying to the Editor. Without any suggestion they conceived and adopted a plan for supporting the BULLETIN which will, if generally adopted, make our monthly a great success. The seventeen members present formed themselves, in accordance with the time-honored custom of the Class of '90, into an executive committee which adopted a resolution "to assume subscriptions to the ALUMNI BULLETIN for every legitimate, living member of the class for whom there is a known mailing address." They immediately notified the Alumni Secretary of their action and took steps to clear their list of such men who properly belong to other classes and also of such names as were, so far as the recollection of the other members of the class went, not even in College during their time. Such names as these are on almost every class list. Men who matriculated but left college during the first few weeks, before any one of the class became acquainted with them. And every class which has honestly tried for years to get a response from these men, without success, has the right to demand that they be not counted in cup competitions or in any plan such as '90 has adopted in support of the BULLETIN.

If the other classes will adopt the same resolution the ALUMNI BULLETIN will be put on the same basis as the "Princeton Alumni Weekly." Every class at Princeton follows this plan, and Princeton with 10,000 alumni has 10,000 subscribers to the alumni paper. In recognition of such class action the BULLETIN subscription will be reduced to $1.50 for the members of each class following this plan, it will carry all class advertisements and announcements without charge, will print complete each month a full list of all news about the members of the class and furnish for each class reunion a printed summary of the doings of the class and its members for the previous five years.

A copy of this summary will be sent each class member, giving what amounts to a five year book.

Now, how can the classes accomplish this project? First they must collect the money and pay it in a lump in advance each year. Every man possible must be induced to subscribe at the $2.00 rate and in addition as many as possible persuaded to take multiple subscriptions. Suppose a class has 100 "legitimate, living members with known addresses." Suppose further that 50 of them send in $2.00 each to the class secretary for the BULLETIN, and in addition a few members who can afford it pay for 25 extra subscriptions at $2.00 each. That makes the $150 necessary to cover the 100 subscriptions. Think what it means for the class. They have an official monthly medium to communicate with every member. They can start their reunion propaganda a year in advance without any cost or trouble for mailing. Every class member will be constantly in touch with the doings of his fellows and every five years will get a history of his classmates. Is it worth the effort '89, '95, '99, '05 and '10 are already considering similar action. Come on, you other classes. Don't let YOUR class be the last in the wash!

Life Memberships.—We are "pleased as Punch" to note the sudden recrudescence of the Life Membership idea since Charley Marshall's letter went out to the members in April. Since the publication of the March BULLETIN we have received twenty-two new Life Memberships. With the determination of the classes to aid the Association in securing new members our total of 230 Life Members should double within the coming year.

'95 has passed '89 for the lead, having now a total of 24, with '89 second with 20. '93 has passed '96 for third place, having now 13 Life Members against a total of 12 for '96.

The following are our new Life Members:

Our New Alumni Member of the Board of Trustees.—To you, Warren A. Wilbur, M.A. (Hon.), '20, the Alumni of Lehigh say "Welcome." No man has more fully deserved the degree conferred on him than have you. No student securing it at the end of an arduous course has more thoroughly earned it. May it be as pleasant to you to be one of us as it is to us to be able to count you our comrade.

A New Day Dawns

Below we give the most important announcement ever made by the Board of Trustees to the Alumni Association. In the second set of resolutions the Trustees declare their intention of sharing their Trusteeship with the Association.

W. A. WILBUR,
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Walter R. Okeson, Secretary,
Alumni Association of Lehigh University, Inc.,
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

June 15th, 1920.

Dear Sir:

By the direction of the Board of Trustees of Lehigh University at their meeting held Monday evening, June 14th, 1920, the Secretary was instructed to notify the Alumni Association of Lehigh University of formal Resolutions passed by the Trustees. In accordance therewith, I am enclosing herewith certified copy of those certain Resolutions.

Very truly yours,
BOARD OF TRUSTEES, LEHIGH UNIVERSITY,
(Signed) W. A. Wilbur, Secretary.

From the minutes of meeting of Board of Trustees of Lehigh University held Monday evening, June 14, 1920.

"WHEREAS, At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Lehigh University held at the office of Mr. C. M. Schwab in New York on April 23rd, 1920, the following letter of Doctor Drinker's was received and read:—

April 23rd, 1920.

To the Trustees of Lehigh University.

Gentlemen:

I have felt for some time and have so stated, informally, to the members of our Board of Trustees, that as I reach the age of seventy this year, it would be the part of wisdom for me to retire from the presidency of the University. I, therefore, tender my resignation to take effect at the close of the Commencement Exercises on June 15th next, or at the convenience of the Board. So far as I know, I am in perfect health and in good strength, but I wish to retire while my friends still feel they desire my services to continue. I am not willing to hold on for some time, as I might do, and then feel that increasing years and failing powers compel my retirement.

From the time of my graduation in June, 1871, I have been devoted to the service of the University's interests, and have served as Secretary of the Alumni, President of the Alumni, Alumni Trustee, Trustee, and President, and now in proposing to drop out of active presidential duties, I have no thought of lessening my interest in the Alma Mater, nor is my retirement from the presidency prompted by any thought except that I have accomplished the things for which I came here, and I now wish to see the leadership of the University pass into the hands of a younger man, one qualified by educational training and actual large experience in educational work, and possessing marked executive ability. I am satisfied that the University has reached a stage in its existence requiring for its leadership and guidance, a man possessing these characteristics.

It has been my privilege to bring to the service of the University energy, devotion and business experience. It was thought at the time of my election, when the University was in financial strain, and in need of greater facilities in plant and equipment and a larger teaching force, that the energies of its friends should be directed to these ends, and I was asked to undertake the task. Today with our plant in greatly improved shape, with our faculty increased from 15 in 1905 to 33 in 1920, the entire teaching force raised from 57 to 89, with our financial situation greatly improved and comparing favorably with that of our competitors, our present need is, as above stated, for a man experienced and trained in educational methods, and with good executive ability; I feel content in the knowledge that the Board of Trustees will well consider the situation, and fittingly serve our University's needs.

Sincerely,

(Signed) HENRY S. DRINKER.

AND WHEREAS, In That, Dr. Drinker, in his above letter, states that there are no urgent reasons why his resignation should be made effective as of June 15th, 1920, or as of any stated date; but, as he considerably puts it "or at the convenience of the Board",

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that, We, the Board of Trustees of Lehigh University, acting with Dr. Drinker's consent, accept his resignation, to become effective, at such time, within the reasonable future, as this Board may obtain and elect his successor."

"WHEREAS, It is the consensus of opinion of the Trustees of Lehigh University in meeting assembled, that the Alumni Trustees, consisting of four, elected for a term of four years, be given the full representation by individual vote in the business of the Board;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that a Committee of three Trustees be appointed for the purpose of forwarding the proposition of granting Alumni Trustees the privilege of a vote in the Board of Trustees of Lehigh University."

BOARD OF TRUSTEES, LEHIGH UNIVERSITY,
(Signed) W. A. Wilbur, Secretary.

DR. DRINKER TENDERS RESIGNATION AS PRESIDENT

A Brief History of His Career

Ever since President Drinker announced this spring that, as he this year reaches the age of seventy, he would retire from the leadership of Lehigh, there has been a great outpouring of expressions of regret because of his resignation and praise for his work. From alumni, both as individuals and by organizations, from faculty and students similarly, from newspapers of the state and nation, from educators and men of prominence everywhere, there have come eulogies of the achievements and the character of Lehigh's great President. Those outside the Lehigh family have emphasized his work in national movements such as forestry activities, the military preparedness movement, the League to Enforce Peace, and others. Lehigh men have praised, in the words of one of the alumni club's resolutions, the manner in which he gave to the University "the very best that was in him, and through the days of trouble and darkness steered her course with as true and firm a hand as in times when no cloud obscured the horizon."

Henry Sturgis Drinker, fifth President of Lehigh University, was born at Hong Kong, China, November 8, 1850. His parents were both Philadelphians. His father was a merchant at Hong Kong. After his death in 1857 his widow, with her children, returned to the United States.

Dr. Drinker, as a boy, attended school in Baltimore and in Philadelphia. In the fall of 1867, one year after the founding of Lehigh, he entered the University, taking the course in mining. He was graduated in 1871 with the degree of Engineer of Mines.

Upon graduation he entered the employ of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company at Henry Colliery, near Wilkes-Barre. Transferring to the engineering department of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, Dr. Drinker was, from 1872 to 1875, in charge of building the Musconetcong Tunnel on the New Jersey Division of the road. His experience and studies in the use of high explosives and machine rock drills in connection with this work were later incorporated in a volume entitled "Treatise on Tunneling, Explosive Compounds and Rock Drills," published in 1878. His second book, "Treatise on Explosive Compounds and Rock Drills," came out in 1882. These works are considered classics in this field.

Along with his engineering work Dr. Drinker studied law. Admitted to the Philadelphia Bar in 1877, he served in the legal department of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company and became General Solicitor of the company in 1885. He held this position up to the date of his election to the Presidency of Lehigh University. From 1887 to 1897 he was Assistant to the President

In taking up the Presidency of Lehigh University in September, 1905, Dr. Drinker was continuing an activity in behalf of Lehigh which began with his graduation. He was Secretary of the Alumni Association, 1876 to 1877; Alumnus Trustee, 1877 to 1879; President of the Alumni Association, 1879 to 1880; Alumnus Trustee, 1889 to 1893, and member of the Board of Trustees, 1893 to 1905.

Along with his duties as President of the University, Dr. Drinker has participated in movements which have brought the name of Lehigh into national prominence. For three successive terms, 1912 to 1915, he served as President of the American Forestry Association, of which he has been an Executive Committee member from 1912 to date. He has been President of the Pennsylvania Forestry Association since 1918. He is Vice-President and a member of the Executive Committee of the National Conservation Congress.

Dr. Drinker's preparedness work was described as follows in a minute of the Military Training Camps Association of the United States at a meeting in New York on May 17, last: "Ever since the formation of the first so-called Students' Camps in 1913, Henry Sturgis Drinker, President of Lehigh University, has been devoting his strength and his constructive ability, first to preparedness, then to the active prosecution of the Great War, and since the Armistice to the earnest effort to obtain an adequate system of universal military training in peace and of universal service in war. Since the organization of the Military Training Camps Association of the United States in 1916, he has been Chairman of its Governing Committee, and as such the active head of the Association. His efforts in behalf of this Association and of the principles for which it stands, before, during and since the War, have been literally tireless and exceedingly fruitful."

Dr. Drinker is Secretary of the Advisory Board of University Presidents on Summer Military Instruction Camps. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the League to Enforce Peace, and Chairman of the Pennsylvania Branch. He was President of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania in 1917. Since 1906 he has served as a member of the College and University Council of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Drinker's old connection with the Lehigh Valley Railroad was resumed in March, 1918, when he was elected a Director of the Company.

The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on President Drinker by Lafayette College in 1905, by Franklin and Marshall College in 1910, by the University of Pennsylvania in 1911, and by Princeton University in 1918.

THE STUDENT BAND
(Concert on the Campus after the Alumni Luncheon)

ALUMNI DAY, 1920

Perhaps it might be well to make that heading plural, for the program this year covered two days instead of one. On the morning of June 11th, old grads began to drift in, and the Class of 1895 in particular arrived early for a luncheon at the Bethlehem Club, followed by an afternoon of golf at the Northampton County Country Club. The Alumni Educational Committee also met at the Bethlehem Club for lunch and followed it by a session lasting until 6:15, at which reports covering all the engineering schools and also the colleges of liberal arts and business administration were presented and discussed.

The Price Jubilee Dinner

The big event of Friday was the dinner given to Dr. H. R. Price, '70, President of the Board of Trustees and Lehigh's oldest living graduate. At the very start of the evening, "Okey" who was acting as toastmaster, announced that Dr. Price was entirely too young to give a dinner to and therefore it was really a "party" and everybody was invited to cast their dignity to the winds, be as young as Price is, and celebrate his fiftieth reunion with a real old-time "College Night." Never was an invitation so quickly grasped. The night was a sizzling one, and every man shed not only his coat but his dignity. Three hundred and forty-four men sat down to this dinner, but anyone who heard the noise would have sworn that there wasn't less than 5000. The Alumni were seated by classes, and class yells and songs which had not been heard for decades suddenly came surging back and demanded that they be uttered. (Uttered is a totally inadequate word. Roared is what I should say.) Sophomores and Freshmen of ten, twenty and thirty years ago again yelled defiance at one another. Meanwhile, on the stage a troupe of forty undergraduates, under the direction of Park Fraim, '09, pulled a continuous performance. Orchestra selections, choruses, solos, ballet dances, "Shimmy" dances, tumbling, jazz by Lehigh's famous Hawaiian Quartette, followed in quick succession. But the undergraduates had to step some to keep ahead of the Alumni, who had an awful lot of music of their own to uncork. Some of the classes even grabbed the stage and insisted in treating (?) the audience to a few choice selections.

"Hop" Walters, '03, was master of ceremonies, and with the able assistance of Caleb Kenny, '10; "Casey" Search, '15; Carter, '17, and other well known song-birds, scores of rousing choruses rose in a volume that literally threatened to raise the roof. It was almost impossible, after three hours of the wildest enthusiasm ever shown at a Lehigh dinner, to still the diners sufficiently to put across the few speeches planned for the occasion.

In a short speech "Okey" introduced Dr. Price, reading the following poem by Morris Pool, '96:

In serried ranks come Lehigh's sons,
With rattling cheers like volleyed guns,
To greet the king pin of the clan,
The oldest, youngest Lehigh man.

South Mountain teemed with deer and bear,
The red man rumpused from his lair—
Wild, wild indeed, was nature's mien,
When Price first came upon the scene.

The bridge that spans the Lehigh's flood,
Triumphal arch of—is it wood?
Was in that distant day—'tis true!—
Was—dare I write it—next to "New!"

Undaunted by the war-whoop's call,
He pitched his tent in Christmas Hall,
Met Math with bold and smiling face,
And he and Drinker made the place.

When holidays loosed learning's serf
And left him free to tread the turf—
Ah, could we know the story, much
We'd give!—be sure he beat the Dutch.

And even though he's settled down,
He still, returning, owns the town—
At least so much as we control
Tonight we give him heart and soul.

A truce, a truce to mirth and jest,
Mere palpable pretense at best,
Transparent mask to hide the tear
Of pride with which we greet him here.

To greet him here so hale and stout,
To hear him lead a Lehigh shout,
To know him ready at each call,
Is inspiration to us all.

Long may he wave among his boys,
A boy whom never Time alloys,
A son of Lehigh, night and day,
Come hand it to him—Hoorah-ray!

Dr. Price spoke of the early days when he entered Lehigh, of the changes that had come since then in everything but the Lehigh spirit, which is never changing. Dr. Drinker followed as the next oldest Alumnus, in fact as the Freshman who the brazen Sophomore Price had hazed, and told of the years of loving service Dr. Price had given to Lehigh. Then from the Class of 1920, Warren A. Wilbur, in a few days to receive Lehigh's degree of Master of Arts, spoke as one of Lehigh's youngest Alumni. As Secretary of the Board of Trustees he was well equipped to add his mead to the praise of our splendid old "young man." Then when "Pop" Meaker, '75, spoke for the Reunion Class next in line to that of Price, the diners rose to give our Professor Emeritus of Mathematics a tremendous ovation. They roared again when "Pop," referring to the hilarity and joyousness of the occasion, said, "We prohibitionists always said you could do it." Perhaps so, "Pop," but that "near-beer" they served certainly didn't seem very different from the old-time stuff we used to get at "Charlie's" and "Carls." Reckon the Federal agents had a little consideration for the feelings (not to say "fillings") of our good old Pennsylvania Dutch population. Well, we wanted to parade so we had to call on the Mayor, "Arch" Johnston, '89, for a permit, and "Arch" said we were going to have that "P-rade" if he had to lead it himself. He made us a bully good speech, did "Arch," and so did Mercer Tate, the President of the Senior Class. About that time the students arrived, headed by their band, and broke up the dinner. Every one hurried into the street and the big red-fire parade to the campus started. Of course they had to stop in front of the "Fem-Sem" and serenade the girls in the good old way. When they reached the upper field they found it lighted by flood-lights strung in the gymnasium windows. "Dave" Petty, '09, handled this mid-night parade and he certainly did it well.

The Midnight Cremation

The Sophomore Class, which had two weeks before never heard of a Calculus Cremation (the custom has been dead for a number of years), put on a fine show, ending with a huge bonfire on which the unhappy Calculus was toasted to a turn, while the "Sophs" danced a wild waltz around his blazing funeral pyre.

To the hundreds of students who staid over for three days after the end of "Exams" in order to make this big night a success, the Alumni extend their sincere thanks. Surely no class at Lehigh ever had such a rousing reunion as did Dr. Price on the occasion of his fiftieth anniversary.

Alumni Day

A full account of the Alumni Meeting, which was held at 10:30 in Drown Hall, is given elsewhere. R. P. More, '10, acted as room clerk and housed the returning alumni in the dormitories. George Beck, as usual, registered all those arriving on Friday, gave them all badges, sold them dinner and baseball tickets. Years of experience has made George an adept. Just before the Alumni Meeting the college band arrived leading the Class of '95, all arrayed as incoming Freshmen. Short trousers, big white sailor collars, big bow ties, and red ribbons on their hats, tied in a bow and hanging in streamers behind, gave them the appearance of sweet little boys. They did not need their white ribbons with the staring green letters announcing "A Freshman, That's Me!" to tell the onlookers who they represented.

AWARD OF THE ATHLETIC CUPS

At 12 o'clock the University served a luncheon to the Alumni, the Faculty, their families and friends. "King" George certainly outdid himself, for it was the best Alumni Day luncheon ever served at Lehigh. The "undergrads" were also invited and you should have seen those kids tuck the grub away.

Then the College band, looking quite natty in their white uniforms contrasting with the vivid green of the campus, gave a concert that made the old-timers open their eyes. Of course the Alumni Day parade followed, the non-reunion classes marching first and after reaching the field opening up in a broad lane to allow the reunion classes to march through. With "Bob" Bird, "Dave" Petty, and "Hop" Walters as Chief Marshals, the reunion classes proceeded to go through some evolutions that would have made Captain Lang, our Military Commander, stare, had he been present. Finally, massing in front of the stands the Alumni sang the Alma Mater, and after a big Lehigh cheer joined the ladies in the stands.

Award of Cups

Then came the award of the Archibald Johnston Football Cup and Medal to "Joe"

Spagna, '20; the Mrs. Rollin H. Wilbur Baseball Cup and Medal to "Matty" Mathag, '20, and the Mrs. Henry S. Drinker Cup and Medal to "Reds" Jenness, '20. In the absence of Mrs. Wilbur, "Gene" Grace, a famous old Lehigh baseball captain (I think he is famous for something else, too. However, that's not important.) awarded the Baseball Cup.

Then Walton Forstall, '91, called out of the crowd "Billy" Cornelius, '89, and demanded that '89 turn over the Reunion Cup to the famous Class of '70. For '70, with a total attendance of two (Price and Boutelle) out of a possible six, had a percentage of 33 1-3%, thus winning the Cup. '95 was second with 39 men for a percentage of 23.2%, and '99 third with 12 men for a percentage of 19.4. Finally came the baseball game and Lehigh walloped Johns Hopkins by a score of 9 to 3. Of course we missed our old friends, Lafayette, but they had finished their college year a week earlier and were not available.

Notes About Class Reunions

Of course '70 had the big Reunion, and for a few hours on Friday night they had 400 members. But on Saturday they had given up all their honorary members and stand on their actual record, which was two. However, that was a third of their total of six and won the Reunion Cup.

Dear old "Pop" Meaker was the main figure in the '75 Reunion. He wrote a week before Alumni Day that he expected five men back, but the Editor failed to find out if his expectations were realized.

Murray M. Duncan, '80, of Ishpeming, Michigan, had a room engaged and expected to be back, but was taken sick a few days before Alumni Day and so missed the chance of helping us to celebrate.

G. W. (Curly) Snyder and Colonel J. H. Wells helped stir things up for '85 at the Price dinner. We have had no report on any other '85 men who were back.

The Class of '90 turned up with 17 men, or almost 20%. They had a reunion dinner at the Bethlehem Club on Saturday night and pledged the Class unreservedly to the Alumni work. Not only do they intend to work to secure a maximum percentage of active and life members from their Class but in addition they pledged themselves to "assume subscriptions to the ALUMNI BULLETIN for every legitimate, living member of the Class for whom there is a known mailing address." Full comment on this important and far-reaching action will be found elsewhere. The members present at the Reunion were: Barclay, Beazell, DeMoyer, Gibbs, Litch, Neumeyer, Perkins, Phillips, Sherman, Straub, Tate, Tompkinson, Turner, Foering, Wariner and Platt.

A class can only have one Twenty-fifth Reunion, so of course '95 was back in strength. Thirty-nine members, attired as entering Freshmen, with Kate Greenaway hats, sailor collars and big bow ties, paraded the streets of Bethlehem and the University grounds behind the college band, which they had engaged for the occasion. They had their own Reunion Song, for which special music had been written and they sang it at all opportune and inopportune times. On Saturday night they had a dinner at the Kurtz Restaurant with 34 men present. Of these, 28 were either Life Members or pledged themselves that night to become Life Members of the Association. Franklin Baker, Jr., who had so ably handled, with the local assistance of R. S. Taylor, the Reunion arrangements, was elected Permanent President, and J. H. Phillips Permanent Secretary-Treasurer. The members present were: Ayres, Baker, Baldwin, Bannon, Bowie, Brooks, Brown, W. H., Budd, Castleman, Crawford, Cressman, Collier, DeHuff, DeKay, Duling, Eckfelt, Dick, Ferriday, James, Jacoby, Lambert, Lewis, McKenzie, Massey, Morgan, Matteson, Oberly, Okeson, Philips, Rights, H. T., Reid, Steinmetz, Stocker, Thompson, Taylor, Townsend, Whildin, White, H. A., and Wigfall.

'99 had a special Reunion with 12 men back out of 62. They held their reunion dinner in connection with the Price

Dinner. They are one of the classes that the Alumni Association is counting on for unanimous support of the BULLETIN. The members present were: Buckland, Emery, Farnham, Gledhill, "Gene" Grace, "Gator" Grace, Klein, Matheson, Reed, Straub, Viehe and Visscher.

In spite of the efforts of "Dick" Dodson and "Weary" Chamberlain, 1900 only mustered ten men. "Weary" came all the way from Tennessee. Although they only had a small number present this class is determined to do its share in supporting the Alumni Association. Surely the class that owns the Treasurer should head the list. The members present were: Chamberlain, Cortright, Dodson, A. C., Dodson, T. M., Gross, Huggins, Robinson, Satchell, Scovil and Yellis.

As for 1905, they had a peach of a reunion. With 37 men back they were close on '95's heels in point of numbers. They wore a badge the size of a dinner plate, and no man could mistake them at a distance of two city blocks. On Saturday night, at the Bethlehem Club, they had a party which never broke up until 2 o'clock in the morning. Hostetter got the floor at 10:10 and held it on his first effort until 12:50. Several things that "Hosty" forgot in his first speech he arose later to say. His talk was punctuated with the famous "Tear 'em up, Eat 'em alive" yell of '05, led by Dan Berg. About one o'clock the club steward asked for less noise and thereafter this yell was given in a whisper. It was less in volume but was given with the same regularity. Anyone who has failed to hear a part of one of "Hosty's" speeches (it takes a strong man or a hardened "Nought-fiver" to stand a whole one) has missed the treat of his life time. At a close estimate he is worth at least a million dollars to '05. The wonder is, not that 37 men came back to their reunion, but rather that any member with less than two broken legs fails to attend. A number of men pledged themselves to become Life Members of the Association, and '05 also has under serious consideration "Ninety's" plan for BULLETIN subscriptions, with every indication that it will be adopted. The members present were: Hostetter, Brown, Kline, Kirk, Dent, Hodgkin, White, Berg, Funk, Leonard, Clay, Estes, Lyon, Fouse, Corsa, Murray, Enke, Bennett, Chapman, Walker, Schnabel, Kantz, Waite, Church, Seacrest, Merriman, N., Snyder, F. B., Johnson, F. A., Ryan, Farley, Buch and Pentz.

At the 1910 table at the Price Dinner were an enthusiastic group of 24 men. Right then and there 1910 did what every class should do, namely, formed a permanent organization to handle all class business and class reunions. They elected H. P. Smith as Chairman; Caleb S. Kenney, Chief Booster, and H. M. Fry, Secretary-Treasurer. On Saturday night twenty of these men assembled at the Wyandotte for a meeting and informal supper. They had as their guest the class boy. Charles

REUNION CLASSES MARCHING BETWEEN LINES OF NON-REUNION CLASSES

(Dr. Price, '70, on the right: immediately behind "Pop" Meaker, '15. "Curly" Snyder, '85, to left of Price. The tall bald-headed "marshal" is Dave Petty, '09)

A. Gosztanyi, his father, brought the class cup along and also the wherewithall to keep it filled, in spite of 1910's valiant efforts to empty it. The chairman of the permanent organization announced the plans for the future and these were approved unanimously, every member pledging his enthusiastic support. These plans are the most forward looking of any yet adopted by a Lehigh class and deserve the careful reading and consideration of all classes which intend to make themselves felt in the future history of Lehigh.

1st. Annual dues of $2 to be paid yearly to the Treasurer, with a goal of $1000 to be reached to cover expenses for their 15th Reunion.

2nd. An informal reunion every year until the grand climax is reached in 1925.

3rd. The Secretary-Treasurer to get out periodic letters to the Class with a 1910 page in the BULLETIN from time to time.

4th. If possible to collect Alumni dues and BULLETIN subscriptions directly through the medium of the class organization, thus giving the Alumni Association the aid needed to increase its efficiency.

Such plans as these, backed by a comfortable nest-egg already in the Treasury, and a bunch of live wires such as 1910 possesses, will make the other classes step some. 1910 is on the right track. We confidently look to them to blaze the way to a class organization which will be a model. It is hoped that they will be one of the first classes to turn in a bulk subscription for the BULLETIN. Send in your $2 for next year's subscription direct to H. M. Fry, No. 726 Avenue H, Bethlehem, and he will do the rest. The men present at this reunion were: More, Rhodes, Bingham, Schultz, Neal, Williams, Standing, Bright, Leban, Moser, Kenney, Jacob, Gosztanyi, Smith, H. P., Hall, Bahnson, Baughman, Gorman, Lichtenwalner, Downer, Lewis, Lance, Bray, Bechofer, Smith, W. E., Floyd, Jacoby, Macdonald, Killough, Billheimer and Fry.

The Class of 1915 held its reunion in connection with the Price Dinner. At one time it looked like a large attendance, and certainly H. M. (Casey) Search made determined efforts to stir up the Class to return to the five year reunion. But only 17 members came back or considerably less than 10%. This was a great disappointment to us, but considering the large proportion of this class that was in the service it is possible that most of them are hard at work re-establishing themselves in business. Also we must consider the fact that all 17 men were graduates and this is about 20% of the living graduates of 1915. Wait until their 10th Reunion. They will be there with bells on. A partial list of those present is: Albrecht, Bodine, Buch, Dineen, Geyer, Laird, Mitman, Neide, Raine, Schuyler, Search, Siebecker and Kelchner.

The Class of 1919 held their first Reunion and numbered 27 men, a most creditable showing. This class, owing to the war, was badly scattered and the S. A. T. C. prevented much in the way of the usual Senior get-together spirit. In consequence their organization is poor, but they are determined to put it on a good basis by the formation of an Executive Committee to handle class reunions and class business. Their Memorial Committee, starting long after the other classes, has already accomplished much, and they would make, by adding two Bethlehem members, an excellent Executive Committee. It is hoped this action will be taken at once and plans similar to those of 1910 laid for the next or 5th Reunion of 1919. The men present were: Amick, Bevier, Brockman, Buckley, Claxton, Duck, Gerber, Gildersleeve, Ginder, Keim, Lawrence, Leverich, Lewis, Ludlow, Nicholas, O'Neill, Overton, Rosenmiller, Schaub, Shipherd, Smith, H. D. W., Sourber, Spillman, Stevens, Tomlinson, Willard and Yard.

1920 was at the Price Dinner in force, at the Alumni Meeting and Luncheon, and marched in cap and gowns in the Alumni Day Parade. A great many have already paid their dues for 1920-21, and a large number have subscribed for the ALUMNI BULLETIN. An effective organization in the shape of an Executive Committee of five has been formed to take care of class reunions and Alumni Association matters. With their splendid organization and class spirit we are expecting great things from 1920. Their Executive Committee is: Mercer Tate Jr., E. W. Estes, W. A. Carr, R. S. Bellman and J. M. Straub.

Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association of the Lehigh University, Inc.

Held in Drown Memorial Hall, Lehigh University, June 12, 1920

The meeting was called to order at 10:30 a.m., by the President, C. D. Marshall, '88.

On motion by H. H. McClintic, '88, seconded by H. G. Reist, '86, the roll-call was dispensed with and the Secretary was authorized to take the roll from the registration cards turned into his office.

On motion by Nelson Morrow, '83, seconded by C. K. Baldwin, '95, the reading of the minutes of the last Annual Meeting, held June 30, 1919, was also dispensed with, they having been published in the August, 1919, BULLETIN.

The President then appointed Norman Merriman, '05; D. M. Petty, '09, and R. P. More, '10, as tellers. While awaiting their report he called on our President, Henry S. Drinker, '71, to say a few words to the meeting.

Dr. Drinker welcomed the Alumni and extended to them, their wives and friends an invitation to the luncheon which is prepared and served by the University each year on Alumni Day. He spoke of his years of service and the fact that the work though hard was a constant delight to him. He assured the Alumni although soon to retire as President, he would not cease to work for Lehigh.

The next in order was the report of committees and H. T. Morris, '91, was called on for the report of the recently appointed Educational Committee.

Morris spoke of the four meetings already held and of the fact that at every meeting the attendance was either 100% or near that figure. He stated that while every man on the committee was a busy man of affairs that nevertheless they all propose to give their time steadily to the work until the results desired were attained. That the work consisted in a thorough survey of Lehigh's educational plant, teaching staff, administration, teaching methods, curriculum and a comparison of her plant, methods and finished product with those of all other colleges of like standing in the country. That the final result desired is to be able, with the aid of the Faculty and the Administration, to formulate and present to the Trustees recommendations covering any and all changes in our educational machinery which will tend to improve our output; with the hope that the combined action of Trustees, Faculty and Alumni we may put Lehigh definitely at the top and by continued combined action keep her there.

Franklin Baker, Jr., '95, Vice-Chairman of the Memorial Committee, reported that after the campaign closed last winter the Committee found sufficient pledges had been obtained to practically cover the combined cost of the Memorial Building, Memorial Tablets, and furnishings (estimated at $400,000) and accordingly the Committee decided to discontinue the active drive temporarily and make the campaign for the endowment of $100,000 at a later date, preferably when the actual building operations began. These operations had been postponed for a year on account of the mounting prices of material and labor which the market of last winter presented. In the meantime the plans had been completed and both the plans and a model of the building were on exhibition in the main reading room in Drown Hall.

The Trustees of the University, through their Secretary, Mr. Warren A. Wilbur, then presented the financial report of the University. In addition to the statement of operations, made a part of these minutes, the cash transactions for the year of the John Fritz Bequest and the Frank Williams Fund were presented and a detailed statement of investment of all the endowment funds submitted. These statements will be sent to any Alumnus upon his request but as they are a part of the records of the University it is not considered necessary to incorporate in these minutes anything other than the total amounts of each fund.

The Secretary then announced that as the minutes of the sixth meeting of the Board of Directors had been printed in the November, 1919, BULLETIN, and of the seventh meeting in the March, 1920, BULLETIN, he would read only the minutes of the eighth meeting.

MINUTES OF THE EIGHTH MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE LEHIGH UNIVERSITY, INC.

Held in the Bethlehem Club, Bethlehem, Pa., at 7 p.m., on May 7, 1920.

The meeting was called to order by the President with the following members present:

C. D. Marshall, President, R. S. Perry, Franklin Baker, Jr., Aubrey Weymouth, W. W. Coleman, A. C. Dodson, P. A. Lambert and Walter R. Okeson, Secretary. Meeting with the Board by invitation were the following members of the Educational Committee: H. G. Reist, H. H. McClintic, M. A. deW. Howe, H. T. Morris, S. D. Wariner, Walter A. Landis and George Murnane. H. D. Wilson, a former member of the Board was also present by request.

The Executive Committee, consisting of Marshall, Baker and Okeson, reporting on their conference on the previous evening with the Trustees Committee appointed to consider the questions growing out of Dr. Drinker's resignation, stated that the Trustees Committee asked that an Alumni Committee of four be named by the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association to confer with the Trustees Committee and aid in the selection of a president for Lehigh. On motion, properly seconded, the following were named: C. D. Marshall, Franklin Baker, Jr., W. C. Dickerman and Walter R. Okeson. To aid this committee in determining the alumni sentiment it was decided to mail to each alumnus a copy of a letter giving the facts. Such a letter which had been prepared by the Secretary was read and on motion adopted. Its text is given herewith.

To the Alumni of Lehigh:

You have all received a letter from our beloved President, Dr. Drinker, advising you of his resignation to take effect June 15th.

No Lehigh man can hear this news without the deepest feeling of regret and a sense of the almost irreparable loss to Lehigh which Dr. Drinker's resignation entails.

The second thought must inevitably be "who will be his successor?" Answering this question and answering it so that Lehigh's successful future will be assured is the big problem before the Trustees of Lehigh today. And they ask us, the alumni of Lehigh, in a sense also trustees for our Alma Mater, to aid in solving the problems Dr. Drinker's resignation has created. In so many words they have said to the Alumni Association "HELP US TO CHOOSE A PRESIDENT FOR LEHIGH."

Dr. Drinker's resignation was laid before the Board of Trustees at a meeting on Friday, April 23rd, 1920. The Board of Trustees having a strong sense of realization of their great responsibility and the need of careful and earnest thought before proper action could be taken, passed the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, That a committee of four, consisting of Messrs. Grace, Warriner, Alumni Trustee Perry, and Wilbur as Chairman, be and hereby are appointed for the purpose of considering the questions raised by Dr. Drinker's proposed resignation."

Pursuant to this resolution this committee met and decided to ask the Directors of the Alumni Association to appoint four members from the alumni body to meet with them to consider these questions.

The Executive Committee of that Board, consisting of C. D. Marshall, '88; Franklin Baker, Jr., '95, and Walter R. Okeson, '96, were requested to meet the Trustees Committee informally on May 6, 1920, to discuss the situation to the end that the Board of Directors of the Association, meeting on May 7th might be fully advised. At this meeting the Executive Committee told the Trustees Committee that in so far as they had been able to gauge the situation the alumni desire above all things the utmost deliberation in considering and choosing Dr. Drinker's successor. The Trustees Committee agreed that a reasonable delay would do Lehigh no harm and might conduce to her future good. They asked that the alumni body be advised of the circumstances at once and requested to give their opinions and make suggestions, and decided that no further meetings of the Committee would be held until there had been time for the alumni to respond to this letter.

In the meantime they requested that the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association appoint a committee of four to confer and keep in close touch with the Trustees Committee of four to aid it by advice and information as to the alumni attitude.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association held on Friday, May 7th, the following men were elected to represent the alumni on this Conference Committee:

C. D. Marshall,
Franklin Baker, Jr.,
William C. Dickerman,
Walter R. Okeson.

This is a concise statement of facts. Now, gentlemen, we await your reaction. "What type of man do you want for Lehigh?" Think seriously and then send in your advice or suggestion for our guidance. Mail your letter to the Alumni Conference Committee, Drown Hall, Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.

For the Board of Directors of
The Alumni Association of the Lehigh
University, Inc.,
Walter R. Okeson,
Executive Secretary.

A discussion followed as to the type of man Lehigh's needs for a President. In order to crystallize the sentiment President Marshall asked for an expression of opinion of every man present.

Morris—"A business executive is needed with an educator as Dean."

Okeson—"An educator if possible but whether the man be business executive or educator is of less importance than to secure a man of great moral force."

Baker—"Who but Hoover? A man of that type at any rate. An engineer and executive."

Warriner—"As a member of the Trustees Committee my mind is open and I am not ready to express an opinion."

Lambert—"We need a man who understands the educational game. Who will find for his teaching force the biggest men he can get with the money at hand."

Murnane—"I have no convictions as yet."

Howe—"A man of great force of character and personality. Should know something of education as an art by itself. Not a mere business man."

Perry—"Like Warriner my mind is open." Marshall asks what problems the Trustees are facing that might effect the selection of a President. Perry answers that he has never heard any great discussion in the Trustees meetings of educational problems and knows of no special ones that would effect the selection."

Reist—"I think, like Okeson, that we need an educator of high character and enthusiasm, who should be relieved of the problems of securing money for the University."

Weymouth—"I agree with Morris. We need a business executive with an educator as Dean. I want to see the President a Lehigh man who is a physical embodiment of Lehigh spirit."

Coleman—"A combination of what Okeson and Lambert have said. An educator who will see that the engineering courses turn out engineers and not glorified mechanics which seems to be the present day tendency in engineering schools."

Landis—"We should first take account of stock. We have an educational plant. All plants require the same type of executive and it is not necessary for him to know the minute details of the work of that plant. He must be able to select specialists who do know that particular line of work thoroughly. At Lehigh we have three or four big problems. Only one is educational. Therefore it is not a wise course to select a man on purely educational grounds. We must have a Dean for the educational problem. In favor of an executive to build up the plant and let him secure an educational expert."

McClintic—"We need a strong man. Such a man as MacLaurine, recently President of M. I. T. Let him get the men under him to do the educational work. Look around. See who is the best college president. Then find a man like him if possible."

Dodson—"There are three phases of the problem. Educational, business, the building of character. We need a man of strong moral convictions and not afraid to state them. Try to get an educator who is an executive but primarily judge him on his force of character."

Wilson—"I agree with Okeson as the fundamental type we need. I think before any selection can be made the educational policy should be determined. Are we going to have a Dean?"

Warriner—"I think I should make it clear that the President of Lehigh is not held responsible for its financial management. The Board of Trustees manage the finances and the President does what he can with the income given him. His work is primarily the moulding of the students, morally, physically and mentally."

The general consensus of opinion at the end of the discussion was that while there was some difference of opinion as to whether the desired type would be a business executive or an educator that there was very general agreement as to the need of a man whose personality, character and moral force would inspire and animate the faculty, undergraduates and the alumni.

The question of giving the local clubs official standing and recognition was then taken up. It was especially desired that a plan be worked out that would enable the clubs to pass on the various questions of policy that come before the Board of Directors. And especially to have their aid in the nominating of the officers of the association. The Secretary was instructed to work out such a plan.

The President appointed H. J. Hartzog, '04, and Ezra Bowen, '13, as auditors to pass on the association accounts.

On motion, properly seconded, all expenditures made by the Secretary in the name of the Alumni Association during the past year were approved.

It was decided to postpone the building of the Memorial until next year and the Secretary was instructed to ask the Treasurer of the Fund, The E. P. Wilbur Trust Co., to invest the funds for a period of one year so as to secure a 6% return if consistent with the safety of the principal.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

WALTER R. OKESON.

Secretary.

Next in order of business was the report of the Secretary.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

June, 1919, to June, 1920

The Alumni Memorial Campaign, the formation of the Alumni Educational Committee and the resignation of Dr. Drinker, followed by the request that the alumni assist the Trustees in choosing his successor, have been the high lights in the business career of the association during the past twelve months. Never before has the association undertaken so many important projects within a short twelve months and the earnestness and zeal with which they have attacked their problems proves beyond a doubt that Lehigh has at last "a grown-up alumni body."

The Memorial Campaign required great preparation and hard work by the alumni office, but once under way the class and district committees shouldered the load and in a few months three times as much money was pledged as was the case in the Alumni Endowment Campaign of twelve years ago. Today we have already received in payment of installments on pledges, almost double the amount paid in during a period of twelve years on the Endowment. So it is evident that our alumni are reaching the point where our University can lean much more heavily on them than was the case in the past.

When our fund had reached 75% of its total, we found it advisable, as did Harvard on reaching the same percentage, to temporarily discontinue the campaign and allow our workers to catch their breath. As soon as building conditions warrant our going ahead with construction the campaign will be renewed and the money for the endowment of the building raised. memorial tablets. The present status of Our present subscription when fully paid subscriptions, payments and expenditures will cover the cost of the building and its is as follows:

The Educational Committee has attacked its work with enthusiasm and is already making excellent progress in its study of Lehigh's needs. Of course it will be at least a year more before they have covered the ground thoroughly enough to be able to make recommendations to the Board of Trustees. However the association can feel sure that when its report is made it will be thorough and cover every phase of the situation at Lehigh.

The Alumni Conference Committee formed for the purpose of determining alumni sentiment and securing alumni suggestions as to Dr. Drinker's successor has only been in existence for a month but already due to the active interest shown in the subject by the entire alumni body they have received and tabulated hundreds of letters. These letters contain scores of constructive ideas and suggestions. At present more than thirty names of possible candidates are before this committee for consideration. The committee hopes to be able to give the Board of Trustees some real help in solving a problem, on the proper solution of which Lehigh's future depends.

The ALUMNI BULLETIN has had its usual year paying for about half its cost from advertisements and as there has been no subscription charge the balance of the cost has been borne by the association from proceeds from dues. Only two men in every five who receive the BULLETIN pay dues so the burden on the association has been heavy. Next year the BULLETIN will be a monthly and a subscription price of $2.00 a year will be charged. About half the number of subscriptions necessary to make it a success have already been received and we hope before fall to have it on a paying basis.

Right here I wish to call the Association's attention to a very grave problem. For three years your Secretary has managed by arduous labor to make ends meet and keep the association's finances up to a point where we could pay our monthly bills. We are carrying on a work far greater than is the case with any alumni association which is not subsidized in some manner. The work cannot go on unless a far greater number of alumni pay their dues. We had almost 400 new active members this year but the big revenue from back dues is falling off. Our expenses are increasing and our revenues are not. Again I must sound this warning: Either we must curtail our work or else we must find more revenue. If the classes would organize and by a thorough canvass collect the dues within each class every year the alumni office could be able to do twice the work that is now possible. Not only because more revenue would be secured, but on account of the great amount of time and effort that must now be expended by the Secretary in collecting these dues. To say nothing of the fact that such labor continued throughout the year saps the enthusiasm and spirit that you naturally expect the Secretary to put into his work.

During this year the Association has compiled a new directory and war record of the Alumni and Students. The University has agreed to bear the cost of printing and mailing which about equals the expense to the Association in compiling. The book is now ready to go out to the alumni and each alumnus will receive one during this month. We ask your help in correcting and adding to the information given so that the next Directory may be more correct and complete and especially that our War Record be made correct in all details for use in preparing the tablets for the Memorial Building.

In closing I will read the names of the Lehigh Alumni who have died during the year. In accordance with our usual custom we will stand during the reading of this list:

E. J. Freeman, '72.
J. L. Jones, '77.

N. O. Goldsmith, '83.
H. A. Porterfield, '83.
Harry H. Hillegas, '84.
J. Davis Brodhead, '85.
Charles E. Stewart, '87.
H. A. J. Wilkens, '87.

Lloyd Hoffman, '15.
James H. McKee, '15.
Carl A. Haller, '17.
William M. Harthman, '17.
Philip L. McGrath, '18.

Immediately after the report of the Secretary, Franklin Baker, Jr., asked for the floor and spoke, in part, as follows:

"Our Secretary does not know what I am going to say or he would take means to prevent me. Only those of us who are closely in touch with the Association know the great work Okeson is doing for Lehigh and appreciate that he is doing it at a real sacrifice to himself. I need tell no one that Okeson could go back into the commercial word and make far more than he is making here. But I know of specific instances where he has refused salaries far in excess of what we are paying him because of the duty he feels he owes to Lehigh. But, while Okeson is one of the most unselfish men I know, every man must take some thought of himself and his family. We must keep Okeson and in order to be sure of doing it we must support him and help him in his work. For the Class of '95, I pledge this support and we will agree to collect the dues from the members of the Class and endeavor to give our Class 100% Active Membership."

In rapid succession, Forstall, '91; Sayre, '86; Litch, '90; Forstall, '83; Cornelius, '89; Evans, '01, and Smith, '84, followed Baker with the same pledge. Other classes were ready to follow, but A. Parker Smith, '84, concluded his remarks by offering a resolution that every class pledge themselves to such action and that the Secretary be instructed to write the Reunion Secretary of each class, giving him the necessary information to make this aid possible. This was amended to include the Secretaries of all clubs, the idea being to have the local Lehigh Clubs also aid in lining up active members. It was then seconded and passed unanimously.

Our Treasurer, A. C. Dodson, '00, read the financial statement for the year's operations. It is to be noted that part of our salaries and other expenses were borne by the Memorial Committee.

REPORT OF THE LEHIGH UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

To the President of the Lehigh University Alumni Association:

Dear Sir:

We respectfully submit the following report of the work of the Athletic Committee for the college year 1919-1920.

Finances

The attached report of the Treasurer shows that the past year, in spite of the heavy increase in expenses, was the most successful financially in the history of the college.

Membership

University: Dr. H. S. Drinker, Dr. N. M. Emery.

Trustee: Mr. W. A. Wilbur.

Faculty: Professors W. L. Wilson, P. M. Palmer and H. R. Reiter.

Alumni: Messrs. E. G. Grace, T. Burns, W. R. Okeson and Geo. Beck.

Students: Messrs. M. B. Tate, Chairman; V. E. Johnson, Representative-at-

Policy

Your Committee has endeavored to keep in mind the Function of Athletics at Lehigh. The underlying spirit has been to encourage as many men as possible to take part in the various branches of outdoor activities. All the sports in season have shown a large increase in members and in interest. Men may substitute the outdoor activities for the regular gymnasium work. For this work one hour per term is given toward graduation. Your Committee has been financially liberal in equipment and in the maintenance of all sports. Swimming this year has won its way to recognition as a minor sport.

The following is a list of sports receiving full financial support: football, basketball, wrestling, swimming, track, lacrosse and tennis. Freshman basketball, Freshman baseball and soccer receive partial support.

W. R. OKESON, Treasurer.

H. R. REITER, Secretary.

A. E. Forstall rose to make inquiry as to whether the present athletic policy of Lehigh tended to bring about more general participation in sport by the student body.

Prof. Reiter answered that efforts of the Athletic Committee were directed to that end but that it was hard to get boys who had not acquired the habit of play in the preparatory schools to go in for sport in college. Nevertheless, Lehigh, by supporting more branches of sport than was the case with any other college of her size, had succeeded in getting out a large number of men. Also the policy of having all the year around coaches who were not required to justify their reengagement by victories won, but rather by the general good affect they were able to obtain tended to prevent the limiting of sport to a few experts. But that the Athletic Committee felt that much was still to be accomplished in the matter of bringing about a general participation in games by all able-bodied undergraduates.

The tellers then announced that they were prepared to report, and Norman Merriman, '05, read the following results of the ballots cast:

For President

C. D. Marshall, '88.....657 votes

For Vice-President

H. D. Wilson, '01.....656 votes

Robert Farnham, Jr., '89.....656 votes

Franklin Baker, Jr., '95..... 1 vote

For Archivist

Alumni and Faculty Advisory Committees.—In the minutes of the Alumni Meeting you will find a full account of the Alumni Advisory Committee, appointed at the request of the Trustees to aid them in selecting Dr. Drinker's successor. The Trustees at the same time also turned to the Faculty for aid, and in a letter from the Secretary, Mr. W. A. Wilbur, asked each Faculty member to give opinions and suggestions. The Faculty, after a series

"Shall all Associate Members in good standing be elected to full membership?"

Yes .....484 votes

No .....125 votes

Blank ..... 48 votes

The Secretary announced that as the new President could not very well call on himself to make a speech he would do so. The Secretary further stated that the reason that impelled the Nominating Committee to insist on President C. D. Marshall's retaining the office for a second year was that they felt he had started so much new and important Association work that it was his duty to see it further advanced before laying down the duties of his office.

President Marshall said he was glad to continue his work, for his love for Lehigh was such that working for her was the greatest pleasure of his life. "Men of my age begin to look backward and appreciate more deeply than they did in their younger days the joys and advantages of a college course at such an institution as Lehigh. They desire to give to the younger men all and more than they received. And especially they wish to keep alive the spirit of enthusiasm and belief in the illimitable opportunities in the the future that every young man should treasure as his most valued possession. I appeal to you older men to aid our younger associates in every way possible so that their success in life may be great and their services to their country greater still. And in no way can you so surely effect this as by your constant aid and support of the University which trains these young men."

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

WALTER R. OKESON,

Executive Secretary.

of meetings, finally selected a committee of four to thoroughly canvass the ideas and sentiments of the teaching force and to crystallize the expert knowledge these men have of the specific type of man required. The Faculty Committee consists of:

Prof. B. L. Miller, Chairman.

Prof. C. L. Thornburg,

Prof. P. A. Lambert,

Prof. P. M. Palmer, Secretary.

The Advisory Committee immediately on being notified of the formation of this committee requested that they cooperate, as far as possible, with the Alumni Committee and give the Alumni Committee their expert aid and advice. The whole situation as we view it today indicates that Trustees, Faculty and Alumni are being drawn together very closely.

Bequests.—One of the by-products of the Memorial Campaign has been the numerous statements it has evoked from Alumni and others of their intention of remembering Lehigh in their wills. We are glad to say that such letters are still continuing to arrive. In a letter lately received from Charles F. King, '80, accompanying a generous subscription to the Memorial Fund, he states, "Later, on death, it is my intention to leave Lehigh a more substantial sum." In another letter, Dr. Langdon C. Stewardson, formerly Chaplain at Lehigh, this letter also accompanying a subscription to the Memorial and advising of the gift to the Alumni Association of the beautiful cup presented by the students to Dr. Stewardson when he resigned his position at Lehigh, says, "I shall not pester you with further sendings—my worldly goods are reduced to my clothing and my investments. These last—the investments—will come to the University at the death of my wife, should she survive me." We merely quote these letters for the purpose of stirring others among Lehigh's friends and Alumni to take thought of what they may desire to do for the University and make provision now so that their desires may surely be brought to fruition.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES, JUNE 15, 1920

The largest class in Lehigh's history received their degrees on University Day, June 15, 1920. One hundred and thirty-seven degrees were conferred and this number will be considerably increased by those who will receive their diplomas next fall.

The Alumni Day Orator was Raymond Walters, B.A., '07, M.A., '13, the Registrar of the University and Assistant Professor in English. His address will be published in a supplement.

President Drinker announced the following promotions of members of Lehigh's teaching staff:

L. B. Chapman, Associate Professor of Naval Architecture, becomes Professor of Naval Architecture.

G. A. Roush, Assistant Professor of Metallurgy, becomes Associate Professor of Metallurgy.

S. R. Schealer, Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering, becomes Associate Professor of Electrical Engineering.

D. S. Chamberlin, Assistant Professor of Industrial Chemistry, becomes Associate Professor of Industrial Chemistry.

J. S. Long, Assistant Professor of Inorganic Chemistry, becomes Associate Professor of Inorganic Chemistry.

P. S. Cobb, Assistant Professor of Organic Chemistry, becomes Associate Professor of Research Chemistry.

O. W. Eshbach, Instructor in Electrical Engineering, becomes Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering.

A. Butts, Instructor in Metallurgy, becomes Assistant Professor of Metallurgy.

W. F. Quast, Instructor in Mechanical Engineering, becomes Assistant Professor of Mechanical Engineering.

A. H. Fretz, Instructor in Geology, becomes Assistant Professor of Geology.

F. J. Lewis, Instructor in Civil Engineering, becomes Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering.

Professor C. S. Fox, Head of the Department of Romance Languages, has also been made Lecturer in Economic Geography.

The event of the day was the conferring of the Honorary Degree of Master of Arts on Warren A. Wilbur, Secretary of the Trustees of Lehigh University and one of Pennsylvania's leading citizens.

Mr. Wilbur was presented for the degree, on behalf of the Faculty, by Professor Robert W. Blake, Head of the College of Arts and Science of Lehigh University. In so doing Professor Blake said:

"The young men who have just received their diplomas underwent in the pursuit of them, tribulations of many kinds—recitations, examinations, probations and such other ordeals as an ingenious faculty could invent to make the way to a degree hard. They have yet to prove, however, what knowledge they really possess, what work they can do with it, and whether that work will bear the marks of self-seeking only, or the impress of idealism and altruism. The real test is thus before them. I want to introduce now for a degree one who has this real test behind him. For he has been under the critical scrutiny of this community for many years, and the record of his accomplishment is distinguished. He is a banker and man of affairs, known widely for his ability and his integrity, a leader in all important social and philanthropic enterprises in the community, a man who gives generously of his time and talents to public service. He has long been a Trustee of the University, and so made its interests his own that it seems as if he had no other interests. They say the same thing of him at St. Luke's Hospital, at the Church of the Nativity, at the Chamber of Commerce. His work has upon it that stamp of idealism and altruism to which I have referred. The Faculty has been so impressed by his character and attainments that they desire to make him an Alumnus of the University, and to that end have voted to confer upon him, honoris causa, the Degree of Master of Arts. I now have the pleasure of presenting to you the gentleman of whom I have been speaking, Warren A. Wilbur."

Warren A. Wilbur, M.A. (Hon.), '20

Mr. Wilbur was further presented for the Degree on behalf of the Trustees by Dr. Henry R. Price, President of the Board, who said:

"It is with keen satisfaction and great pleasure that, as President of the Board of Trustees, I endorse, on their behalf, the nomination of Mr. Wilbur for the honorary degree of Master of Arts. During his entire life he has been interested in Lehigh's welfare, and for the past fifteen years his untiring and able services on the Board of Trustees have been of inestimable value. His keen administration of Lehigh's funds and intimate detailed knowledge about all phases of the University's work have made him an ideal Trustee. Lehigh is honored in being able to enroll him among her sons."

In conferring the degree President Drinker said:

"Warren Abbott Wilbur, recognized by all who know you as a Master of Many Arts, acknowledged leader of men, honored in the community in which you have lived, and looked up to in our State as one always in the forefront of progress, patriotism and efficient effort for the good of your fellow-men and of your country, we welcome you to the fellowship and fraternity of Lehigh Alumni as an honored member of the band sent forth by our Alma Mater for service to their fellow-men."

The exercises closed with the benediction pronounced by Bishop Talbot, the singing of the Alma Mater and then the farewell remarks of President Drinker to the graduating class.

The degrees to the members of the Class of 1920, and to post-graduate students, were as follows:

Master of Arts—Arthur L. DeLozier, B. A., (Ashland College); John G. Schumaker, A.B., (Muhlenberg College); William M. Tinker, B.A., (Yale University).

Front Elevation of Alumni Memorial

Lehigh Alumni Memorial

On Alumni Day hundreds of Lehigh Alumni viewed the model of the proposed Memorial Building, which was on exhibition in Drown Hall. For the benefit of those who could not be with us we reproduce some photographs of this model. The plans were also available for those who wished to look over them. These plans show a building 164 feet long on the front facade, with a central Memorial Hall 30 feet by 75 feet. Behind this is a corridor connecting the two wings, and opening off this corridor a circular main stairway to the second floor. The wings are 32 feet by 85 feet, inside dimensions. The south wing will contain the offices for the Administrative and Faculty Officers of the University, a Trustees meeting room, and a Faculty meeting room. The first and second floors are connected by a private stairway, so these offices are readily accessible one to the other. In the north wing on the first floor will be a room the full size of the wing, which will be fitted up as a reading and club room for the Faculty and returning Alumni. On the walls will be photographs of the plants headed by Lehigh men which supplied our armies and those of our allies. The records of the boys in uniform will be on the bronze tablets in the Memorial Hall, but any one wanting a more complete record of them or the record of our men in civilian service will find it in this big assembly and club room. On the second floor will be the offices of the Alumni Association, and a gallery will connect these offices with the main stairs and with the Administration and Faculty offices in the other wing.

On the basement floor is a wonderful room in the north end for the Supply Bureau. It can be fitted up to make it a big assembly and lounging room for the students, with a soda bar, dozens of tables, comfortable chairs and a piano. Besides their books, drawing materials, etc., they can get soda, ice cream, candy, tobacco, and perhaps even a light lunch. There are great possibilities in this as has been shown in the Union Buildings at other colleges. We need something of this kind at Lehigh. Our present supply bureau, were it not for its cramped quarters, could quadruple it business. Also there is not a place where the boys can congregate in large numbers in their leisure time. This room with almost 3000 square feet of floor space would be an ideal place for them. However, it would have to be run in a way to make the students realize it belongs to them and they would have to feel that they were under no more restriction there than they would be in any of the town places they now patronize.

The Architects who produced these beautiful plans are J. L. Burley, '94, and T. C. Visscher, '99, and we are very proud to feel that Lehigh alumni have designed their own building.

The site of the building will be just where the house occupied by Prof. Thornberg now stands. This is the second brick house as you come in from the Brodhead Avenue entrance. The building will face east and the tower will be approximately on the axial line running from the main Gymnasium entrance through the flag pole.

The Building Committee will not be able to start work until the major part of the money subscribed is actually in hand. The University must sign the contract and of course we will not ask them to do this until every dollar of the contract price is actually paid in. At present about $200,000 is still to be paid and it will be about January 1, 1921, before the whole amount is due under the pledges. This falls in very well with the Building Committee's present plans. They hope that prices will ease off sufficiently in the next six months to make it feasible to let the contract next winter and break ground in the spring of 1921.

Of course we have a job to do before this building is dedicated. We must finish our Campaign and secure the $100,000 we need for the Endowment. Also, we are still about $20,000 shy on the money required for building. Subscriptions are still coming in, but because no one is canvassing for them they are coming in slowly. Surely no Lehigh man needs to be asked to give to this project. Every man should be his own canvasser. That many are is shown by the fact that since March 1, sixty-nine subscriptions for approximately $5000 have been sent in besides a number of increased subscriptions from men who had previously subscribed.

We wish to make the following corrections in the list of subscribers published in the March BULLETIN:

W. A. Warren transferred from '80 to '79.

H. W. Frauenthal transferred from '89 to '86.
 L. F. Chapman transferred from '87 to '89.

ALUMNI SECRETARIES MEET

A Three-Day Session at the University of Michigan

On May 13, 14 and 15 almost a hundred Alumni Secretaries, from every important college in the country, met in a three day conference in Ann Arbor, as the guests of the University of Michigan. The session was the most interesting and instructive one of the seven conferences that have been held by the body since its formation. The Association of Alumnae Secretaries was invited to join in the same conference, which added greatly to the interest and also to the pleasure of the occasion.

The first day of the Conference was devoted to Alumni Magazines and the program included a discussion of advertising problems by Roy Barnhill, of Roy Barnhill, Inc., Advertising Agents for the Alumni Magazines Associated. Edwin Oviatt, of the "Yale Alumni Weekly," was to have read a paper on "The Editor of the Alumni Publication—His Duties and Responsibilities." Being unavoidably absent, Minott Osborn, Secretary of Yale University, read the paper. Walter R. Okeson, Editor of the LEHIGH ALUMNI BULLETIN, was next on the program with a paper entitled, "Can We Make A Balance Sheet of the Table of Contents?" Paul G. Tomlinson, Business Manager of the Princeton "University Press," spoke on "Subscriptions in Bulk," telling of the Princeton plan of class subscriptions. A general discussion on make-up problems followed. An evening business meeting was held after dinner. Your Editor was on the nominating committee and so felt safe from having any job wished on him. But Matthew Stanley Quay, in his palmist days, had nothing on Levering Tyson, of Columbia. When the nominating committee met they were handed a list of officers already named, and found they had all been hand-picked as members of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Magazines Associated.

The next two days were devoted to sessions of the Association of Alumni Secretaries and of the Association of Alumnae Secretaries. The following papers, with general discussion of each, filled to overflowing the four sessions:

- "'New' Reunions"—C. W. McKibben, Michigan Agricultural College.
- "The 'Mixed' Reunion"—Miss Agnes Thompson, of Kansas University.
- "A New 'Serious' Side of Alumni Work"—Louis R. Wilson, North Carolina.
- "War Memorials"—A. M. Souby, Vanderbilt.
- "War Records"—Frederick S. Mead, Harvard, and H. L. Senseman, Michigan.
- "The Alumni Fund"—Wilfred B. Shaw, Michigan, and Miss Bertha Ehlers, Bryn Mawr.
- "The Intensive Drive for Large Endowments"—John Price Jones, Harvard, Miss Florence H. Snow, Smith, and Mrs. C. D. Macdonald, Northwestern.
- "The Alumni Office"—A. G. Pierrot, Chicago.
- "The Employment Problem"—John J. Coss, Columbia.

At the business meeting on Saturday afternoon the following officers were elected for the coming year:

- President: Lewis D. Crenshaw, Virginia.
- 1st Vice-President: John A. Lomax, Texas.
- 2nd Vice-President: Agnes Thompson, Kansas.
- 3rd Vice-President: Tom Garner, Alabama.
- Secretary: Walter R. Okeson, Lehigh.
- Treasurer: J. L. Morrill, Ohio State.
- Executive Committee: Levering Tyson, Columbia; W. D. Towner, Maine; A. D. Butterfield, Worcester.

COLLEGE AND ALUMNI NEWS

NOT LEHIGH'S YEAR

Although Lehigh's teams this year were decidedly not below par we cannot count the victories that teams of the same calibre would have given us in past years. Most of the colleges had exceptionally strong material and the teams generally were of unusually high quality. Only in lacrosse and tennis did we have any decided success, although most of the teams had many victories to their credit. However, we had the satisfaction of knowing that never before had so many men participated in intercollegiate sport at Lehigh and much new material has been developed which will make its presence felt in the years to come.

LACROSSE

For the first time since 1916 Lehigh won the Southern Lacrosse Championship, and furthermore, they defeated by a score of 4-1 the Northern Champions, Syracuse. The most notable feature of their season was defeating Johns Hopkins on their own grounds, something no college team has done for many years. Early in the season the team was very crude and looked anything but like a championship team. As the season advanced the able coaching of O'Neill showed its effects, and at the end of the season they were easily the best team in the country. Furthermore, they played their last two championship games without a penalty being assessed against them, and of this fact we are exceedingly proud. All honor to this fine team and their splendid Coach.

BASEBALL

The baseball team was much stronger than last year, and outside of the Lafayette series had a good season. But Lafayette had what was probably the best team in the college ranks. Any team that can win 12 straight games is certainly a high-grade aggregation. Lehigh lost all three games of the series, and Lafayette for the first time in many years finished a baseball season victors over Lehigh. Lehigh won 10 games and lost 5. Outside of Lafayette only two teams won from us, each by a single run.

TRACK TEAM

With the idea of seasoning our green material and giving our all-the-year coach, Morris Kanaly, a chance to develop men for the future, a very long and hard schedule was arranged for the track team. They won but one victory, but the foundation was laid for a renewal of track and field sports which have been practically dead at Lehigh for several years. For instance, last year we scored but a single point in the Middle States Intercollegiates.

TENNIS TEAM

Lehigh's tennis team ranks with the lacrosse team in winning high honors for Lehigh in the field of sport. They won every intercollegiate match they played, with the exception of the contest with the Navy. It is undoubtedly the strongest tennis team Lehigh has had in years.

WRESTLING INTERCOLLEGIATES

In the March meets in wrestling Lehigh won from Pennsylvania, 18-15, and lost to Penn State, 22-5. In the Intercollegiates Penn State easily won the Championship, with Cornell second, Pennsylvania third, Lehigh fourth, Yale fifth and Princeton sixth. "Bob" Good won the 175-pound Intercollegiate Championship, which was the only first taken by Lehigh.

THE COLLEGE AERO MEET

Lehigh Wins Second Place in Twenty-five Mile Race

The first Intercollegiate Air Meet was successfully held under the auspices of the War Department, at Mineola, L. I., on May 7. This event, which will be historic in the annals of college sport, brought together in competition Yale, Princeton, with Richards as Mechanic.

Lehigh was unfortunate in furnishing the only accident, which occurred in the "alert" contest. In this the pilots removed their flying clothes and lay down on Army cots. At a pistol shot they dived into their clothes and raced to their planes. Mechanics spun the "props" and the pilots got their ships into the air as fast as possible. W. G. Nowell, '23, was Lehigh's contestant and his machine developed motor trouble. The mechanic finally got the motor running and the plane rose about fifty feet. Then, as Nowell started to turn down wind, the missing motor threw the plane into a side slip, and the nose dropped downward and the machine crashed. The plane was completely destroyed and the motor hurled bodily for fifty feet, but the mechanic was only badly shaken. Nowell's injuries were more

Lieut. S. S. Richards, Second Place in Intercollegiate Cross-Country Aero Race

Cornell, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Williams, Pittsburgh, Wesleyan and Lehigh. In all these colleges are a number of under-graduates who are Reserve Military Aviators, and many of them flew on the battle lines in France. The various colleges started Aero Clubs and interested the War Department in holding a meet to test the abilities of Reserve Aviators after a year's absence or more from the flying field. The meet was an unqualified success, demonstrating that these young men had lost neither their skill nor their nerve.

There were four events: a cross country race, alert contest, landing competition, and acrobatic contest. The most exciting was, of course, the race which was won by Horne, of Yale, with S. S. Richards, '18 (now '21), second, and a Pennsylvania man third. H. R. Mellinger, '21, was in serious but he was out of the hospital and at the banquet the next night.

The final scoring was as follows:

Yale	.....9
Williams	.....6
Columbia	.....5
Princeton	.....5
Lehigh	.....3
Pittsburgh	.....3
Wesleyan	.....3
Pennsylvania	.....2
Harvard	.....0
Cornell	.....0

Lehigh's pilots were: 2nd Lieut. S. S. Richards, '18 (now '21), who served abroad as a pilot in the Third Squadron, U. S. Marine Corps Aviation Section; 1st Lieut. L. H. Richards, '23, one of the first pilots to go from America to France; 2nd Lieut. W. G. Nowell, '23, who got his wings in this country, and Ensign H. R. Mellinger, '21, who also won his wings on this side of the Atlantic. The other members of Lehigh's Aero Club are, R. S. Bellman, H. L. Chisholm, S. Clarke, V. E. Johnson, L. P. Leverich, N. J. McCrindle and R. A. Wilbur. These boys deserve great credit for hurriedly organizing this club and joining the Intercollegiate Aero Association in time to participate in this race. The Alumni office aided them by raising among certain local alumni and friends in the Bethlehem Steel Co. most of the money required for expenses. We are quite proud of the fact that in the first intercollegiate aero contest Lehigh not only was a contestant, but won second place in the cross-country race against such a strong field.

PROF. BOWEN RESIGNS

It is with great regret that we announce that Ezra Bowen, B.S. '13, M.S. '16, Associate Professor of the Department of Business Administration, has resigned to accept the Chair of Economics and Business Administration at Lafayette College. Prof. Bowen prepared for Lehigh at Penn Charter, Hill School and Lawrenceville. While at college he was prominent in all student activities and was manager of the baseball team in his Senior year. Besides his teaching experience since 1914 at Lehigh, he has had considerable business experience, first as statistician of West & Co., Bankers, of Philadelphia, and later during the war as Assistant Production Engineer with the American International Shipbuilding Corporation, at Hog Island. We say good-bye to him with a sense of real loss, and congratulate Lafayette on her choice. We hope that some day he may come back to us.

LEHIGH MEN WHO WRITE

The Atlantic Monthly Press, Boston, announces "A Great Private Citizen, Henry Lee Higginson," a biographical study by M. A. De Wolfe Howe, B.A., '86, Litt.D., '16.

A new Spanish novel, "Simonetta," by Edwin Lefevre, '91, has recently been published by Harper and Brothers, New York.

"The Work on Mineral Resources Done by the U. S. Geological Survey" is the title of a pamphlet issued on March 31, 1920, by the Department of the Interior, and written by Edson S. Bastin and H. D. McCaskey, B.S., '93, M.S., '07. In the thirty-seven years from 1882 to 1919 the "Division of Mineral Resources" of the U. S. Geological Survey had only five chiefs, one of whom was McCaskey, who served from 1915 to 1919. Therefore he was in charge during the war period when the most valuable service of the Division was rendered.

A text book on Algebra by Julius L. Neufeld, E.E., '94, Professor of Mathematics, Central High School, Philadelphia, has just been brought out by P. Blakinston's Son and Co., Philadelphia.

The American Academy of Political and Social Science has reprinted "Modern Manufacturing," being the September, 1919, volume of the Annals of the Society. The Editor-in-Chief is Morris Llewellyn Cooke, M.E., '95, former Director of Public Works of Philadelphia, and now a leading efficiency engineer with offices in the Finance Building in Philadelphia. To quote the "Textile World Journal," "it is a handbook for the manufacturer who wishes to evaluate himself in the light of present-day industrial standards."

"Municipal and County Engineering" in its April, 1920, number carried an article by George L. Robinson, C.E., '00, entitled "New Institutional Sewage Treatment Plant at West Falls, Va." Robinson is a consulting engineer at 37 E. 28th Street, New York City.

Articles by Raymond Walters, B.A., '07, M.A., '13, have been published this spring in "School and Society," "Musical America," and "The Probable Error," the quarterly of the Field Artillery Reserve Association.

LEHIGH MEN IN THE LIMELIGHT

Lewis B. Stillwell, '85 (Elec.), M.S. (Hon.) '07, Sc.D. (Hon.) '14, has been elected a Trustee of Princeton University. Dr. Stillwell is recognized as one of America's greatest electrical engineers.

Prof. Harry H. Stoek, B.S., '87, E.M., '88, Professor of Mining, University of Illinois, was honored at the recent commencement of the University of Pittsburgh with the degree of Doctor of Science.

Charles J. O'Neill, E.E., '93, a prominent attorney of Washington, D. C., and President of the Washington Lehigh Club, was recently elected President of the Rotary Club of Washington.

On May 6, 1920, the "Washington Herald" carried a picture of William Bowie, C.E., '95, and a sketch of his career. Bowie is one of the most prominent scientists in the employ of the government, having served for many years with the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Walter A. Landis, Met.E., '02, M.S., '06, Member of the Alumni Educational Committee, has had many honors come his way lately. Formerly Chief Technologist of the American Cyanamid Co., he has now become President of that big corporation. Also at the recent annual meeting of the American Electro-Chemical Society he was elected President of the Society. Dr. J. W. Richards, A.C., '86, M.S., '91, Ph.D., '93, was, as usual, reelected Secretary. It is also interesting to note that in April Landis was invited by Yale University to spend a week there to aid the authorities of Sheffield Scientific School in improving their chemical engineering course.

Raymond Walters, '07, Registrar of Lehigh University, was elected Secretary of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars at the annual meeting in Washington, D. C., in April, 1920.

1st Lieut. George M. Crawford, '17, is reported by the "Public Ledger" of June 21, 1920, to have sunk single handed a Bolshevik ship loaded with troops in the river Dnieper during the Polish operations in the Ukraine. The "Ledger" account reads: "Crawford, a member of the famous Kosciusko squadron of American Airmen, twice braved rifle fire from the soldiers in order to attack the vessel, and poured incendiary ammunition into her until she caught fire and sank. In later operations Lieut. Crawford and another American aviator were forced to make an emergency landing and were discovered by Soviet cavalry. They used their machine guns on the approaching Cossacks, but finally realizing the fight was hopeless they set fire to their airplanes ran for the woods and escaped." Crawford was a pilot in the 20th Aero Squadron of the American Expeditionary Forces during the war and had many adventures in France, including a short captivity in a German prison camp at Carlsruhe.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL ALUMNI CLUBS

PITTSBURGH LEHIGH CLUB

After several postponements the date of April 10 was selected for the spring dinner of the Pittsburgh Club. It was held at the University Club and had as its guests of honor Frank R. Coates, '90, President of the Toledo Railways & Light Co., and Floyd W. Parsons, '02, one of the Editors of the "Saturday Evening Post." Parsons is the creator of the well-known series of weekly articles entitled "Everybody's Business," which have been appearing in the "Post" for the past year.

The dinner was well attended but a number of the regulars were missing, owing to their absence from the city. On the other hand a lot of new faces were to be seen among the diners. In the absence of President Charley Taylor, that good old scout "Nelly" Neilson presided. Chancellor McCormick, of Pittsburgh University, made the opening address. Parsons gave us a most interesting talk, telling of the many interesting new features of science and business his work constantly uncovers. Coates gave a strong, serious talk of Lehigh, Lehigh men and Lehigh spirit. The Alumni Secretary, Okeson, closed by calling attention to the responsibility our alumni must shoulder in their support of the University in taking up the load when the men now carrying it lay it down.

FIRST ANNUAL DINNER HELD BY SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND CLUB

The Lehigh Club of Southern New England held its first annual dinner at the Hartford Golf Club, on April 28. Members of the Lehigh baseball team, which has been making a trip through New England, were guests. Curtis H. Veeder, President of the Veeder Manufacturing Company, acted as toastmaster. Guests of honor were Dr. H. S. Drinker, President of Lehigh University, H. R. Reiter, Professor of Physical Education at Lehigh; Raymond Walters, Registrar of the University; Henry A. Perkins, Acting President of Trinity College, and Clement C. Hyde, Principal of the Hartford Public High School.

Dr. Drinker spoke of the part Lehigh men had played in the war and the value of the Plattsburg camp and the R. O. T. C. He said the R. O. T. C. was efficiently established at the University and that a number of Lehigh men had aided in preserving order during the recent railroad strike.

Dr. Perkins spoke of the value of engineering training, emphasizing its usefulness in cultivating clear and accurate thinking. He also said that he was opposed to the modern idea of college advertising, saying that the students should seek the college rather than the colleges going after the students.

LEHIGH CLUB OF CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA

The annual meeting was held on Friday evening, April 30, at the Penn Harris Hotel, corner Third and Walnut Streets, Harrisburg, Pa.

At seven o'clock, twenty-four Lehigh men gathered at a long table for a good square meal with all the fixings. There was an additional place prepared but it was vacant. Up until the last minute we were expecting Okeson, but he could not be there owing to the illness of Mrs. Okeson. He certainly was missed and all voiced their disappointment.

Before all the courses were served, every one had helped to make the gathering full of life by taking part. Then a brief description was given of each member, his class and course, and finally his present work and employer. So we went away, not only having met each other but getting to know every one present personally.

A table meeting was held over coffee and cigars and resulted in the election of the new officers: Honorary President, William D. B. Ainey, '87; President, William J. Collier, '95; Vice-President, James H. Gledhill, '99 (Lebanon); Secretary-Treasurer, Louis G. Krause, '01; Directors, Percy L. Grubb, '01; Warren B. Keim, '95; William H. Myers, '03 (York).

Then the lantern was set up and all settled themselves to enjoy the treat of the evening. Chairman Ainey gave us "A Near View of the Far East" and gave it the human touch with slides from pictures taken by himself. It was based on a trip to Japan and a swing around the world in his work on the Foreign Relations Committee, when a member of Congress. He spoke of Japan, Korea, China, and carried us through Siberia, Russia, Norway and Sweden on his return.

Our greetings were unanimously voiced and sent to our honored President, Dr. Drinker.

WASHINGTON LEHIGH CLUB

The annual dinner of the Washington Club was held at the Hotel Lafayette on the evening of May 1. They had as their guests Prof. P. A. Lambert, '83, and the Alumni Secretary. Charles J. O'Neill, the President, presided and he had a most enjoyable surprise for the diners. He brought with him a friend, Mr. L. E. Thompson, as a guest and before the evening was over it developed that this gentleman was blessed with a wonderful baritone voice. It is seldom that such a musical treat is offered at a Lehigh dinner and certainly no crowd was ever more appreciative.

Prof. Lambert made an address in his own inimitable way. Humorous at the start, becoming more serious as he progressed, at all times it was entirely original in its viewpoint and it gave us all food for thought. As there was much discussion during the dinner of Dr. Drinker's proposed resignation, Okeson gave a short talk on the situation and assured his hearers that full consideration would be given by the Board of Trustees to the views of the Alumni. He asked for constructive suggestions and action rather than anything merely negative. Subsequent action of the Washington Club shows that his words fell on fertile ground.

LEHIGH CLUB OF ##### WESTERN NEW YORK

A meeting of this Club was held on May 18, and a set of resolutions passed which were transmitted to the Alumni Conference Committee, expressing the mature judgement of the Club as to the vital necessity of the exercise of the utmost care and deliberation in the selection of Dr. Drinker's successor. At this meeting D'Arcy W. Roper, '98, of Buffalo, was elected President of the Club, and R. H. Torrey, '09, of Niagara Falls, as Secretary-Treasurer.

PHILADELPHIA LEHIGH CLUB

The Annual Shad Dinner of the Philadelphia Club was held this year at the Philadelphia Yacht Club, at Essington on the Delaware, on May 21. Light showers probably kept down the attendance somewhat but, nevertheless, forty men assembled for this great annual treat. In the afternoon there was a golf contest, for which very unique "Mugs" were awarded to the winners. These "mugs" were the gift of Robert Farnham, '99, were beautifully inscribed and were quite original in their conception. At one time similar articles were in quite general use, but now they have become rarities and doubtless, besides their intrinsic value, they will soon have an added value as antiques. Not the least of their qualities is that they are far more useful than the cups usually awarded at golf tournaments. Brumbaugh, '09, made the award in a speech which was received with shouts of laughter.

As to the dinner itself, it set an absolute high water mark for good eats. The only criticism came from Prof. Thornberg who claimed that there were so many good things and all so appetizing that no man could refrain from eating twice as much as was good for him.

The President of the Club, F. A. (Cully) Daboll, '96, presided at the dinner. "Shine" Kirk, '05, was the principal guest of the Club and gave one of his original talks on dogs and men, with his usual touch of history. This time he took us back to Ireland's ancient kings. Some of the diners, due either to a remarkable imitation of fish-house punch or else to frequent journeys to see whether their automobiles had run away, were a little hazy as to whether the Irish wolf-hound, "Shine" was talking about, was a king or just a prime minister. But they all agreed he was a peach of a dog, equal to licking an English bull-dog any day. "Shine" says the breed is now extinct. Probably that's the reason England is able to hold a hammer-lock on Ireland.

Then A. E. Buchanan, '18, gave an exhibition that was really wonderful. This youngster, if he wasn't so busy making money for the duPonts, and keeping '18 ahead of '17 in Memorial subscriptions, could certainly make a fortune on the stage. As a magician he is a wonder, and the further he went in his exhibition the more suspicious some of the men became of that "lemonade" they drank at the start of the dinner.

The evening closed with a short talk by Okeson, in which he brought back fond memories by telling of the last Lehigh-Lafayette scrap, which had occurred at the ball game a week before the dinner. In the minds of that crowd, whose joint memories went back over forty years, every previous fight was indelibly recorded. What a wealth of black eyes and skinned knuckles those forty years have produced. Here's to you, Lafayette!

NEW YORK LEHIGH CLUB

The New York Club held two dinners in May and an outing at Upper Mont Clair Golf Club on June 3. The dinners were both for the purpose of discussing the questions arising out of Dr. Drinker's resignation and were largely attended and were of far greater interest than is usually the case. There is no doubt that having a real live topic to discuss means far more interest than merely listening to a few set speeches. The Club passed a beautiful set of resolutions commenting on the great work Dr. Drinker has done as President of Lehigh and expressing the deep sense of loss all Lehigh men feel on hearing of his proposed resignation. It also outlined in several resolutions the type of man the members felt that Lehigh should have as Dr. Drinker's successor. Of course these resolutions expressed an ideal which no one expected to fully realize but which it is hoped can be to some extent approached in the selection of Dr. Drinker's successor.

At the outing at Upper Montclair, Aubrey Weymouth, '94, proved to be the best golfer and won the first prize. However, there were prizes for every contestant, and the award of some of them produced considerable hilarity. Thaddeus Merriman, '97, the Club President, presented the prizes and missed no chance to dig slyly, in his dry way, at the recipients. Lord, how he makes you think of "Pop." He grows more like his dad every day.

MARRIAGES

Class of 1904

On March 11, 1920, Mr. Lester Bernstein to Miss Florence Ella Goldsmith, of Connellsville, Pa. At home, 343 South Fairmont Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

DEATHS

Class of 1872

Dr. Edward J. Freeman died at his home in Freemansburg on March 14, 1920. He was in his sixty-eighth year.

Class of 1877

John L. Jones died at his home in Santa Monica, California, on March 21, 1920. He was formerly a lawyer in New York City.

Class of 1885

Judge J. Davis Brodhead died at his home in Washington, D. C., on April 23, 1920, of angina pectoris. He was a member of the bar of Northampton County, Pa., for many years; district attorney of that County from 1889 to 1892; elected member of Congress in 1907, and in 1917 went to Washington as assistant to A. Mitchell Palmer, Alien Property Custodian. He resigned his position last fall and took up his law practice again, remaining, however, in Washington. He leaves to survive him his wife and one married daughter.

Class of 1892

Another active Lehigh man is gone. George Washington Engel, B.S. '92, E.M. '93, Secretary of the Class of 1892, and prominent always in the Northwestern Pennsylvania Lehigh Club, died on March 25, 1920, of pneumonia at his home at 1418 Jackson Avenue, Scranton, Pa. He was one of the best known mining engineers of the anthracite region and for years was employed as Chief Mining Engineer of the Temple Coal and Iron Co. He was a member of the Engineers Club of Scranton, and prominent in the engineering circles of his section. He leaves to survive him his wife and a son, Russel Engel, just graduated from high school and destined by his father for Lehigh.

Class of 1893

Bernard Enright, B.S. (in Chem.) '93, died suddenly of heart failure on April 4, 1920, at his home, Yorship Village, outside of Camden, N. J. He was 46 years of age and leaves to survive him his wife and six children. For many years he had conducted the Eastern Testing Laboratories, at Allentown, Pa., but just previous to his death was in business as a consulting chemist and cement expert at Camden, N. J.

Class of 1895

Eugene H. Olds, President of the Olds Coal Co., one of the largest handlers of coal in Fort Wayne, Ind., died suddenly in his home at No. 407 West Berry Street, Indianapolis, on Sunday, April 11, 1920. He was apparently in his usual good health and his death came without warning. The cause of his death was a blood clot in the vessels that feed the heart. He leaves a widow but no children.

Class of 1903

James C. Barton, for many years a merchant in Coatsville, Pa., died at his home in that city of sleeping sickness on May 5, 1920. About a year before he had suffered an attack of influenza and never fully recovered his health thereafter. Previous to his death he was employed by the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Co., in the Supervisor's office. He leaves to survive him his wife and a son, James Jr., 13 years old. His father's wish and request was that the boy, when old enough, be sent to Lehigh.

Class of 1904

It is always hard for the Editor to write these last sad notices, but sometimes the task becomes almost impossible. Here must be recorded the death of a boy who played on the team in the years when I coached at Lehigh, and a boy who was deep in my affections. Alexander Lardner Dornin, M.E. '04, died on March 20, 1920, of tuberculosis, leaving to survive him his widow, Bessie Kone Dornin. He was a brother of George A. Dornin, '96, also an old Lehigh football player.

Class of 1905

Francis Henry Galvin died on August 25, 1919, at Kellogg, Idaho.

Class of 1908

Patricio T. Cardin, '08, B.S. (Mass. Agric. College, '09), died on September 29, 1919.

PERSONALS

Class of 1881

James T. Bourke, Political Editor of the "Cleveland Leader," was unable to come east for Alumni Day, as he spent the week of June 7 at the Chicago Convention and went from there to San Francisco to cover the Democratic Convention.

Class of 1883

Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Stinson announced the marriage of their daughter, Katherine, to Mr. Howard Reefsnyder Watt on April 14, 1920.

Class of 1886

Following an operation, the wife of Dr. J. W. Richards died in St. Luke's Hospital on Decoration Day.

Class of 1888

Manuel V. Domenech has been appointed General Manager of the Porto Rico Railway, Light & Power Co.

C. J. Parker, formerly Asst. to Chief Engr. of the N. Y. C. R. R., has been appointed Chief Fire Protection Engineer.

Class of 1890

J. B. Cullum, Jr., son of J. B. Cullum, graduated from the West Point Military Academy this June, taking the highest honors in his class.

Class of 1891

Murray B. Augur, formerly with C. W. C. Seering, in Honolulu, H. I., is now with the Barbour Construction Co., of Louisville, Ky.

Class of 1896

Homer A. Reed is now Engineer in charge of structural work with Lockweed, Greene & Co., at 101 Park Avenue, New York City.

Class of 1897

Francis D. Ammen graduated from the Law School of the City College of Law & Finance of St. Louis, Mo., on June 1, 1920, receiving the degree of LL.B.

Class of 1898

Entering the World Electrical

THE graduate of today enters a world electrical.

Gathered from the distant waterfalls or generated by the steam turbine, electric power is transmitted to the busiest city or the smallest country place.

Through the co-ordination of inventive genius with engineering and manufacturing resources, the General Electric Company has fostered and developed to a high state of perfection these and numerous other applications.

And so electricity, scarcely older than the graduate of today, appears in a practical, well developed service on every hand.

Recognize its power, study its applications to your life's work, and utilize it to the utmost for the benefit of all mankind.

SINGLE POWER-DRIVEN
AIR COMPRESSOR

A ribbon of steel —and 1000 pounds pressure

A RIBBON of steel" is the valve on Worthington Air Compressors—the "FEATHER" Valve, which successfully stands pressure up to 1000 pounds.

The "FEATHER" Valve is the strongest, most simple, long lasting valve in service. (REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.) It has but one moving part—"a ribbon of steel", which weighs less than one ounce, and functions by bowing in center against slotted curved guards to permit passage of air or gas and closes by gently straightening into place on ground face slotted seats. There is no friction or hammering action as with many other types of valve.

The "FEATHER" Valve, because of its efficiency prevents fluctuating pressures and guarantees an always ready, reliable air service for Shop, Foundry or Mine.

Here again is proved the worth of Worthington's 80 years' experience in designing and improving pumps and pumping machinery. The advice of our engineering experts is to be had for the asking.
